

WHY?

Floods, earthquakes and fire
Are tearing this world apart.
So many people who suffer,
They bring tears and love to our hearts.

Many things happen in our lives,
Those close to us get hurt and cry –
“Please explain to me how this happened,
Please tell me the reason why?”

Why? Is a question that cannot be answered,
Why certain things happen we do not know;
Trying to find an answer is pointless,
We have to accept, and then let it go.

Life is like that, and we have to get on with it,
Pick up the pieces and swiftly move on.
Be there to help those who need comfort and strength,
By helping others we can be strong.
